

DIRECT ACCESS

The Adaptation Fund's robust direct access modality was the first to be fully operational among climate funds. Through direct access, national and regional entities are able to directly access financing and manage all

"Direct access provides developing countries with the opportunity to strengthen local capacity and to build on local expertise"

benefits OF DIRECT ACCESS

- Funds and projects directly managed by countries
- Elevates issues relating to climate change and adaptation to the national level
- Improves intragovernmental collaboration and amplifies stakeholder voices
- Fosters transparency and competition in project formulation
- Sustains institutional knowledge and enhances internal management

All developing countries are eligible to nominate an entity for accreditation. Once an entity passes the Fund's rigorous accreditation review, it may apply for project funding.

Accredited implementing entities:

- Are fully responsible for project & programme management, including financial, monitoring and reporting
- Receive funding in performance-based tranches

The Adaptation Fund's new readiness program is helping implementing entities:

- Efficiently navigate the accreditation process
- Strengthen their capacity to design and implement climate adaptation projects and programmes
