Steps towards accreditation

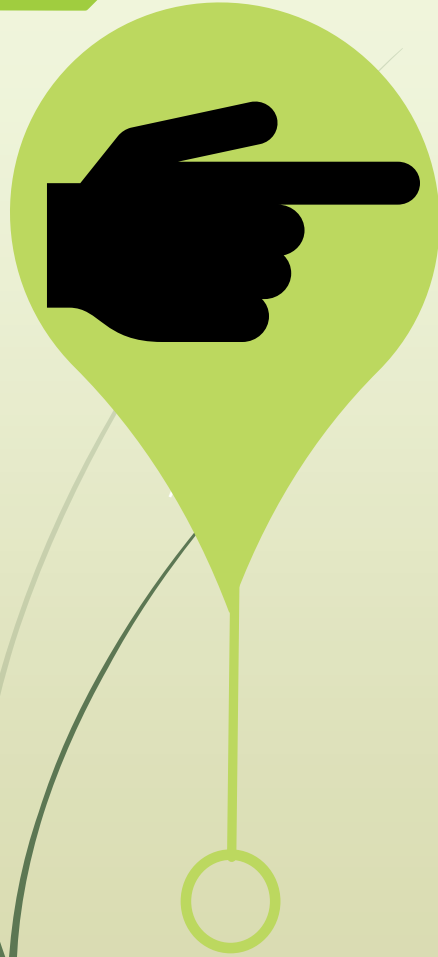

Nomination The process begins with the nomination of an entity by the Designated Authority to apply for accreditation.

Application The nominated entity then submits an application and supporting documentation on line.

Screening The Adaptation Fund Board Secretariat screens the application for completeness and requests any additional information, as necessary.

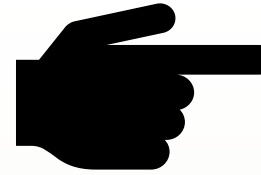

Review by Accreditation Panel: Once the application is complete, it is forwarded to the Accreditation Panel for review. The Panel identifies any potential gaps and communicates with the applicant through the Adaptation Fund Board Secretariat until ready to make a final assessment. A recommendation is then delivered to the Adaptation Fund Board.

Decision by the Board: The final step is the decision of the Adaptation Fund Board. Based on the Panel's assessment and recommendation, the Board may grant accreditation.
